Fierce Attacks by Italians. The fighting on this front has been the most sustained and fierciest battle of the whole war. For weeks the Italians have been attacking the Aus-trian bridge heads and mountain positions along the Isonzo river and are slowly by surely drawing their nets around Tolmino, Gorizia and Doberdo. There also seems to be some hitch in the allies' ecgotiations with Greece, in the allies' segotiations with Greece, for nothing is yet forthcoming as to the latter country's reply to the latest demands for guarantees of safety and facilities for the entente's armies operating near the Greek frontier. The Greek reply was expected yesterday and the dalay in its receipt feads to the supposition that the Greek cabinet is not prepared to go as far as the entente powers desire. Their attacks have been repeated time after time against positions which had been most carefully prepared and, while the Austrians report that most of these assaults have been so worded as to prepare the public for their retirement from Gorizia at least.

Keeping Autrians Busy. This for the the time being is Italy's contribution to the Balkan operations of the allies, for it keeps a large force of Austrians busy and makes it necessary for them continually to bring up reinforcements which could be ems ployed against the Montenegrins and Serbians.
